

Let us walk by your side... Choose our Family Intervention Services

Family Intervention Service

We understand that families often struggle to find the right words; worry that they are making things worse; or have lived many years of turmoil, lack of trust and are genuinely worried about their loved ones. We are here to help!

For many families or loved ones, they simply want their own support, to be heard, understood and to feel part of the journey; Learning how to cope with and support the new journey to recovery.

This new way of life is a difficult journey for everyone and we are committed to ensuring that our focus remains on:

- ✓ Helping each family member to repair the damage that Addiction has caused
- ✓ Ensuring everyone develops the tools and understanding that will help you rebuild your lives and make useful changes!
- ✓ Providing families and loved ones with their own space and time (in their own right) to talk through the difficulties, emotions, fears and understanding
- ✓ Helping you find new ways to cope, learn new skills and rebuild your families future

Our Family Intervention Service has one simple aim:

To provide every family with their own space and support to repair the damage caused by addiction.

Provide you with private 1-1 sessions where you can share your concerns and fears

Help you gain a better understanding of Addiction and the effect on your loved one

Help you explore difficult feelings, thoughts and emotions; giving you the space and time to talk and be heard in your own right and helping you develop the strength and skills to move forward

Support the whole family to look at how you all work together, communicate with each other and support each other

Provide you with the resources and materials to learn how to support someone and each other in Recovery

Help you to find new ways of building relationships with those closest to you and support you all to secure a happy, family life again

Where do these sessions take place?

Centre Based: Most of our clients enjoy holding these sessions in the privacy and comfort of one of our private residential treatment centres. These sessions can take place in any of our UK facilities nearest to your own area.

Home Based: Some clients prefer to hold their sessions in their own home, which can be arranged and enable you and your family to make the most of your support sessions in your own surroundings.

How many sessions will I need?

We understand that every family is unique and for some a short number of sessions may be just what they need to help them during the early days. However, for some families the years of hurt, distrust, damage and fear are not easily repaired in a short amount of time. Choosing a longer package of support increases the likelihood of real family success and may be just what you need to rebuild your relationships.

As a minimum, our Standard Starter Package of 4 Weeks is available for any family ready to access our support. This enables our Family Intervention Worker to work closely with you each week and develop a plan that is as unique as you are, start to explore your fears, hurt and concern and then start to rebuild your lives.

During the first four weeks, you can discuss your next steps, review your progress and then choose exactly how many more sessions you will need to secure great family relationships.

This is flexible and you can simply buy additional sessions per week (or more) until you are all ready to move forward together without our help.

Getting started is Easy...Simply contact us today and choose our Standard 4 week Starter Package to get you moving forward.
